"This year alone I've saved £100 on my new laptop, and over £250 in utility bills. I've just had £40 cashback paid into my bank account and now I've got a discount on driving lessons too!"

"I did the maths and worked out that this year I've saved just under £1,000 in employee meals!"

"I've picked up loads of important skills and grown my confidence loads through working here, and now I'm on my way to becoming a manager. Without working at McDonald's, I wouldn't be able to do half the things I can now!"

"I'm proud to take part in McDonald's events such as Love Where You Live litterpicks, which I know make a real difference to the local community"

The UK's leading traffic management specialist

The Chevron Way: In Safe Hands

Safety is Our Business • Safety must be at the core of everything we do

Deliver on Our Promises • We are only as good as our last job.

Champion our Customers • We work together with our customers and supply chain and share in success.

Lead by Example • Never be too big to do the small things that need to be done.

Keep it Simple • Get the basics right, the results will follow.

Humour gives us an edge • We are easy and fun to do business with.

WHO WE ARE:

Established in 1979, Chevron is the UK's largest independent traffic management company. Providing complete solutions across the nation, we operate around the clock – 365 days a year. With an industry-leading safety record and numerous awards, we deploy more than 450 operatives and 375 specialist vehicles from 10 locations. We believe in offering our people the best possible opportunities, with extensive support to gain professional qualifications, and we go the extra mile to recognise and reward potential.

All positions offer a highly Competitive package, plus pension and 28 days holiday (including 8 days statutory)

12A FOREMAN

Are you an experienced traffic management professional? Do you hold a current Lantra 12A Foreman qualification? Then you can play a key role within Britain's market leader.

About the role:

Taking control of sites across 12A and 12B static temporary traffic management measures, you will oversee all aspects of installation, operation and removal. We will look to you to get the most out of our Traffic Management Crews, whilst ensuring continual adherence to Health & Safety best practice. At the same time, you will train and mentor members of the team, and will respond rapidly to any adverse incidents. From initiation to end of shift, you will provide clear and confident leadership – doing whatever it takes to fulfil client requirements whilst carefully mitigating risks.

About You:

Having been involved in both 12A and 12B works, you will be a team-spirited, adaptable and effective foreman with a high level of physical fitness (including the ability to pass a safety critical worker medical). A full UK driving licence is naturally essential, with an HGV licence (including IPV qualification) being an advantage, and you will be capable of interpreting rules, balancing priorities and taking considered decisions under pressure. Finally, TSCO, 12C Operative and 12D RTMO qualifications (with a minimum of 1/2 and 6, ideally plus 4 and 5) would be ideal, but more importantly you will bring a flexible approach and be happy to work on a 48 hour contract, including evenings and weekends.

TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT OPERATIVE

Are you familiar with the basic principles of traffic management? Do you hold a current CSCS card? Then you can build your future with Britain's market leader.

About the role:

At the heart of a team installing, maintaining and removing temporary traffic management, you will deploy cones, signs, frames, sandbags and other equipment on both high and low speed roads. With guidance from an experienced Foreman, you will usually operate from a purpose-built vehicle and will work in a small team/crew. At the same time, you will maintain detailed records, including traffic counts, calls to clients and subcontractors, timings and near misses, so meticulous attention to detail is a must.

About You:

Physically fit and able to pass a safety critical worker medical, you will be keen to take the initiative and make your mark every day. Needless to say, you will hold a full UK driving licence (and preferably an HGV licence) and be capable of adapting quickly to changing circumstances. Above all, you will be effective at following clear guidelines whilst using your initiative, happy to work on a 48 hour contract including evenings and weekends, and keen to develop your traffic management skills and career.

TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT TRAINEE

Do you hold a full UK driving licence? Are you self-motivated, team-spirited and keen to learn? Then you can build your future with Britain's market leader.

About the role:

Following comprehensive induction and ongoing training, you will join a team installing, maintaining and removing temporary traffic management measures, including cones, signs, frames and sandbags. Operating from a purpose-built vehicle and working on both high and low speed roads, you will ensure the highest standards of safety in everything you do and will assist us in mitigating any incidents and maintaining detailed records.

About You:

Physically fit and able to pass a safety critical worker medical, you will be keen to gain a broad understanding of traffic management operations. You could join us from almost any industry: it's your attitude and your ability to learn fast that will really matter, alongside your flexible approach to responsibilities and willingness to work a 48 hour contract including evenings and weekends. Prove you have what it takes and a career with us could take you almost anywhere.
